Contents

1. The Politics of Improvement: European Models and Local Traditions 25  1.1 Forging a new "reason of state" 25  1.2 Legitimizing and reforming the estate system 43  1.3 Patriotic allegiance and national mobilization 56  2. National Projects and Civilizational Hierarchies 67  2.1 Expansion of the "public sphere" 67  2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext 78  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past 91  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other" 105  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars 116  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence 116  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe 126  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism 132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS 137  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals" 143	Int	roduction	1
Traditions  1.1 Forging a new "reason of state"  2.2 Legitimizing and reforming the estate system  1.3 Patriotic allegiance and national mobilization  2. National Projects and Civilizational Hierarchies  2.1 Expansion of the "public sphere"  2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY:  THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF  POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		ENLIGHTENED STATECRAFT, DISCOURSES OF	15
1.1 Forging a new "reason of state"  1.2 Legitimizing and reforming the estate system  1.3 Patriotic allegiance and national mobilization  2. National Projects and Civilizational Hierarchies  2.1 Expansion of the "public sphere"  2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143	1.	The Politics of Improvement: European Models and Local
1.2 Legitimizing and reforming the estate system 1.3 Patriotic allegiance and national mobilization 56 2. National Projects and Civilizational Hierarchies 67 2.1 Expansion of the "public sphere" 67 2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext 78 2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past 78 2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other" 105 3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars 116 3.1 Fascination and abhorrence 12.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe 13.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism 132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS 137 4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals" 143			25
1.3 Patriotic allegiance and national mobilization  2. National Projects and Civilizational Hierarchies  2.1 Expansion of the "public sphere"  2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143			25
2. National Projects and Civilizational Hierarchies  2.1 Expansion of the "public sphere"  2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		1.2 Legitimizing and reforming the estate system
2.1 Expansion of the "public sphere"  2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		1.3 Patriotic allegiance and national mobilization	56
2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143	2.	National Projects and Civilizational Hierarchies	67
and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143			67
and its political subtext  2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		2.2 Polishing the language: The emergence of vernacularism narratives of the past  2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		and its political subtext	78
2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		2.3 Ancient glory and stadial development: Enlightenment
the "internal other"  3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence 3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe 3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143			91
3. The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence 3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe 3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		2.4 The rising interest in archaism and the problem of
Napoleonic Wars  3.1 Fascination and abhorrence 3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe 3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		the internal other	105
3.1 Fascination and abhorrence  3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143	3.	The Repercussions of the French Revolution and the
3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door: Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		Napoleonic Wars	116
Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		3.1 Fascination and abhorrence	116
Napoleon and East Central Europe  3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic Nationalism  132  PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		3.2 The "Historical Sublime" knocking at the back door:
PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY:  THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF  POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		Napoleon and East Central Europe	126
PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY: THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		3.3 After 1815: Legitimism and the harbingers of Romantic
THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		Nationalism	132
THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143
POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		PART II. SPIRITUALIZING MODERNITY:
POLITICAL IDEAS  4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143		THE ROMANTIC FRAMEWORK OF
4. "Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143			137
Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivals"  143	4.	"Playing the Piano that does not yet have Strings"? The	4000000
4.1 TM 1 1/2 CT 1.1	38 1	Cultural-Political Programs of the "National Revivale"	1/13
4   I DP   ODG DTP Of Enlightonment ideas		4.1 The long life of Enlightenment ideas
4.1 The long life of Enlightenment ideas 143 4.2 The quest for emancipation 152

Contents

4.3 "Not dead, but sleepeth": Discourses of national awakening	168
4.4 Ruins and resurrections: The search for suitable ancestors	181
4.5 Between national and supranational loyalties	191
4.6 From "Missionism" to Messianism	203
5. Political Visions of the Vormärz	214
5.1 The emergence of the liberal nationalist project	214
5.2 Moderates and radicals in the reform movement	220
5.3 Critiques of national awakening	228
6. Brotherhood and Disappointment: 1848 and its Aftermath	236
6.1 Visions of revolutionary transformation	236
6.2 The "social issue" during the revolutions	246
6.3 The clash of national aspirations	254
6.4 Ideologists of the Counter-Revolution: Forward to the Past:	265
6.5 The aftermath of the Revolution: Self-criticism and	269
anti-absolutism	207
PART III. INSTITUTIONALIZING MODERNITY:
CONCEPTIONS OF STATE-BUILDING AND
NATION-BUILDING IN THE SECOND HALF
NATION-BUILDING IN THE SECOND IMP	277
OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY	-,
7. The Interplay of National and Imperial Principles	281
of Organization
7.1 Solving the riddle of the "Eastern Question"	281
7.2 "With you. Our Most Gracious Monarch, we stay and wish	201
to stay": Ideologies of Compromise, Dualism, and Trialism	291
7.3 The rise of pan-national ideologies	309
8. The Political Implications of Positivism	318
8.1 The "critical turns": Challenging the Romantic constructions	318
8.2 Positivist historical narratives	320
8.3 Studying the nation	339
8.4 Overcoming backwardness: The discourses of	2.72
"national economy"	346
9. The Rise and Fall of "National Liberalism" after 1848	356
9.1 The paradigm shift of the liberal doctrine	356
9.2 Liberalism and the "Church Question"	368
9.3 The anti-liberal left	376
9.4 The merger of ethnicism and conservatism:	Unicognical con-
The emergence of political anti-Semitism	382

Contents	vii
Commission	(1.44

	PART IV. TAMING MODERNITY: THE FIN	DE
	SIÈCLE AND THE RISE OF MASS POLITI	CS 391
10.	Liberals, Conservatives, and Mass Politics	395
	10.1 Responses to "politics in a new key"	395
	10.2 The limits of liberalism	401
	10.3 The new conservatives: Attempts at mobilization 10.4 Fin-de-siècle religion and politics: Between	408
	modernism and neo-traditionalism	414
	10.5 The rise of integral nationalism	425
11.	The Left and the Ambiguity of the Marxist Package	431
	11.1 Civic radicalism: Intellectuals in search of a new iden	itity 431
	11.2 Socialism and underdevelopment	446
	11.3 Agrarian populism: An East Central European local tradition?	469
	11.4 Anarchists and anarcho-syndicalists: Contesting	SACTORNO .
	evolutionary socialism	484
12.	Coping with Diversity	495
	12.1 Multiethnicity as a political issue	495
	12.2 Federalism as a solution to the nationality question	512
	12.3 Supranational theories and transnational movements	529
	12.4 The "Jewish Question": The entanglement of assimilation, anti-Semitism, and Zionism	544
13.	The Faces of Modernity	564
	13.1 The modernization of historiography and the sociological gaze	564
	13.2 Individualism, decadence, and collective regeneration
	13.3 The "Women's Question" and feminism	593
14.	The Great War	609
	14.1 War aims and visions of the future	609
	14.2 Projects of regional reorganization	624
	14.3 National mobilization and social disintegration	631
Sele	ect Bibliography	641
	Index		